

Jyrki De Neve Back-end Developer

I'm a back-end developer based in Suntaži Parish, Ogre Municipality, Latvia with 10 years of experience in web development.

Work Experience

Lead Back-end Developer @ Code d'Or, Ghent, Belgium

November 2012 – current

Started as my first job and in the first four years, I grew to being the lead back-end developer. As lead back-end developer I was responsible for choosing our tools (e.g. we switched from Gitlab to Github). Also we switched from CakePHP (custom cms) to Laravel (first Nova and now Filament), introduced Vue.js. Wrote down our guidelines, helped interviewing applicants, put out roadmaps for each year, followed up the performance reviews for each back-end developer, made together with the other back-end developers around 60 private Laravel packages (that were too specific to open source). For client projects I made REST API's, talked with external services (SOAP/REST/Payment providers)
